Krysta & Andy & Trisha at 14:34 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Adam at 14:40 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

How much autonomous time do our Marshall students have? Have we taught them how to manage the autonomy that they have?

Amanda H at 14:40 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Thanks, Tony and Dave. It's the fans that are making it difficult to hear, but we better leave the fans on.

Nate M at 14:40 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

what is possible? lego robotics is a confined set of commands with unlimited ability to string code and solutions.

Adam at 14:40 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Having free time to socialize is one thing, using your free time to explore "important ideas" is another.

moswald at 14:41 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Is any table coming up with the answer that Marshall students have a lot of autonomous time?

Tony at 14:42 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Students here don't have a lot of autonomy. Not that this is bad. There might be quite a bit of autonomy within a structure.

Nate M at 14:43 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Doesn't CT translate into autonomy or free space for exploration? (are any of us truly free and unconstrained?)

Adam at 14:44 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Autonomy doesn't = no rules. It sets a stage for freedom, but there are still rules. You can't compose a Waltz in 4/4 time

Amber Burns at 14:46 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Our table thinks seniors don't have enough autonomy before their last year here and thus aren't prepared for autonomy senior year.

Sarah at 14:46 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

CT is "better do the homework I didn't do last night" time...

Susan at 14:46 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Self-directed projects work with the Senior Project, mostly. It's not 100% successful, but, when it works, it does really work.

Nate M at 14:47 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

I look at this type of autonomy still necessitating rigid boundaries - it's more that we allow freedom within those definite boundaries

Matt at 14:47 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

how many projects and when (age) are good?

Krysta & Andy & Trisha at 14:48 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

as McCleod noted, we can find our experts (experts not necessarily experts, just need to know more than audience and present effectively)

@michael - we have access to those resources. google sites is a great place to start. at 16:16 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Adam at 16:21 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

julie ball at 16:22 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

I used to crochet doilies until arthritis got me...

Susan at 16:22 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

julie ball at 16:23 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

My granny tatted--as a lefty, I just couldn't get the hang of it...

Susan at 16:24 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

annecastle at 16:26 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

annecastle at 16:26 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Adam at 16:27 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@Adam why is fan fiction blocked?

Jess Powell at 16:27 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

this was a crowd sourced art project for Duluth, combining art and brewing

Adam at 16:28 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@jess powell - because there is something called slash fiction. do not google that here.

Adam at 16:28 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

LOL k

Jess Powell at 16:28 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

is there a school-safe version of fan fiction somewhere? (I know, I know-- make it yourself)

Susan at 16:29 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Are we going to get a list of all the amazing things he is talking about?

Jess Powell at 16:29 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

we will have access to all the content from these links -

Adam at 16:31 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

and yes, Susan, you are right on the nose with that comment.

Adam at 16:31 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@Jess: all links are on the website from the very beginning of the talk

moswald at 16:32 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

given valid arguments and necessity, we can adapt the blocked list of sites (says the new guy who doesn't know any better)

Adam at 16:32 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@adam, but if I don't have the time, is there a fanfic thing I can just have kids submit to...

Susan at 16:32 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

10th grade advisors... should we wiki some advisory time?

Shawna at 16:33 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@susan, interesting idea to create an intraschool recommended student reading list

Matt at 16:36 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Can we utilize our students to help teach teachers how to build projects/sites-- volunteer/work hours

Stiles at 16:36 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@susan @stiles shared google doc - content linked to web page ->interactions with new library catalog -> :)

Adam at 16:38 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Are we getting set up with schoology or do we set it up ourselves?

Nate M at 16:38 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@susan #fanfic - yes, we can find those spaces/sites/resources.

Adam at 16:38 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@nate #schoology -> no decisions have been made. input needed.

Adam at 16:39 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

check out itunes U. for this content.

Adam at 16:39 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

if all this online ed is free, no one needs to go to Marshall...

Susan at 16:41 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Teachers are no longer location dependent

Krysta & Andy & Trisha at 16:42 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Itunes store...

Adam at 16:42 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

students still need marshall, we just need incorporate these things in, add structure and passion.

Adam at 16:43 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

All these resources have been available for years - but I am not a nuclear physicist yet. content is a supplement. value added.

Adam at 16:43 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

<http://www.instructables.com/>

Adam at 16:44 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

The face-to-face in-person world is important! --That's my point!

Susan at 16:46 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

...and becomes even more important, the more technologically-engaged everyone gets...

Susan at 16:48 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@susan - agreed. provide multiple levels of access for all learning styles. infor without interaction/vigor/accountablity is trivial

Adam at 16:49 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Does anyone know how I could set up an on-line journaling site for the students to submit their writings?

Jess Powell at 16:51 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@jess - too many resources to name.
depends on how you want it done.

Adam at 16:53 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@Adam ok we can chat later :-)

Jess Powell at 16:53 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

How do we find the resources?

Stiles at 16:53 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

This is inspiring, but overwhelming. I feel bad that I don't do more, but I feel as if time is too short.

Nate M at 16:55 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

overwhelming = yes, in an intensive 3 hour burst. but one step at a time, gradual knowledge increase, colloboration = doable

Adam at 16:56 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

does Marshall policy allow all this global interaction?

moswald at 16:57 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@nate no reason to feel bad. technology is a different way to share and tell stories

Adam at 16:58 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

why can't we connect to the itunes store to look at books via marshallsecure? I can connect using open access

Lori at 16:58 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@lori... good question.

Adam at 16:58 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@lori. i have access, but on fac mac. share later.

Adam at 17:00 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@moswald and PD committee has a year worth of training, with faculty contributors, LPC, etc. to develop our skills, share knowledge.

Adam at 17:01 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@amandah - Minecraft FTW

Adam at 17:02 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

FTW = for the win

Adam at 17:03 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

If the kid is spending dozens of hours on this, what else is not getting done?

Matt at 17:03 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@Matt - good point. however, if someone is pouring that into one project, that is passion teachers can harness.

Adam at 17:05 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

I totally agree, and I also think we as teachers need to have a coordinated approach in this not being just an isolated project.

Matt at 17:06 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

What's the best RSS reader?

Nate M at 19:05 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

@Nate - Google Reader is very similar to Gmail in look and feel.

Amanda H at 19:27 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

A wiki might be a good approach to creating a blog for each student.

Tony at 19:47 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

google blogger is blocked

moswald at 19:47 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Google blogger can be enabled if we want to use it.

Tony at 19:48 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Does Finalsite have a blog type function?

moswald at 19:51 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

Finalsite's blog function is slow and cumbersome.

Matt at 19:59 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

I suppose any future LMS would also serve that purpose

moswald at 20:17 PM, 24 Aug 2012 via web

I actually Like the finalists blog/forum
